

Tuition Payment Options

Tuition for Leadership Morgan Hill's nine-month program is $1,300, a figure less than half the actual cost to administer the program. The remainder of LMH program expenses is covered by fundraising and financial support from alumni and the local community. This community support allows a broader range of qualified students to participate.

No payment is expected until the applicant has received an acceptance letter. There are several options that can be explored for covering tuition costs. Students may be sponsored all or in part by their employer or other organization. Students may self-sponsor themselves and pay the tuition. If a single payment is a hardship, a payment schedule can be determined based upon need and as agreed upon by the applicant and Leadership Morgan Hill.

Leadership Morgan Hill has limited funds for tuition assistance. Funds are awarded at the discretion of the Leadership Morgan Hill Board of Directors. See Tuition Assistance Policy and form or contact recruiting@leadershipmorganhill.org for additional information.
